

young EUROPEANS dance in glasgow

Glasgow, the 1990 Cultural Capital of Europe, is bustling with activities this summer. A unique dance festival is being organised under the artistic direction of Benjamin Felixsdal. Among the items on the agenda are a choreography workshop for professional dancers and a SUMMER COURSE conducted by internationally renowned teachers and choreographers: Konstantin Shatilov (former principal dancer of the Kirov Ballet, USSR) for classical ballet/repertoire; Joachim Tappendorff (Staatliche Ballettschule Berlin, DDR) for classical ballet/pas de deux; Leo Besseling (Nationale Ballet, The Netherlands) for classical ballet; Lesley Main (former artistic director of Pioneers Dance, Scotland) for modern dance (Humphrey technique); Karen Bell-Kanner (former solo dancer of the Merce Cunningham Dance Company, England) for modern dance (Graham technique); Reney Deshauteurs (artistic director of the Ballet Jazz Nat., France) for Jazz dance; Benjamin Felixsdal (former principal dancer of the Nationale Ballet, The Netherlands) for modern jazz dance. This summer course, held from August 21 through to September 1 at Jordanhill College in Glasgow, is intended for advanced dance students (at least 3 years of professional dance training, minimum age 15 years). The course fee is £ 50.-. The cost for 12 overnight stays at the Jordanhill College amounts to £ 275.- (full-board). For more detailed information and registration forms you can contact: CJP-Flanders, Waterkrachtstraat 36, 1040 Brussels, Belgium, Tel.: (02)-2309570.

Young Europeans Dance in Glasgow is organised by the European Conference of Youth Cards, whose members are: Young Scot (Scotland), CJP (The Netherlands), CJP/Carte Jeunes/Jugendkarte (Belgium), Carte Jeunes (Luxembourg), Carte Jeunes (France), Carnet Jove (Andorra), Cartão Jovem (Portugal), Carnet Joven (Spain), Karta Neon (Greece), Karta Neon (Cyprus), Ungdomskortet (Sweden) and Ungdomskortet (Norway). Among the financial contributors that make this dance festival possible are: The Strathclyde Regional Council, Scottish Arts Council, European Community and European Cultural Foundation.

